2019 HOLIDAY PARTY

2019: A VERY BIG YEAR FOR CHARITY WORK!

The Vernon L. Nash Antique Auto Club of Fairbanks presented charity gift checks totaling $17,200 at the Annual Meeting / Holiday Party on December 8th at the Fountainhead Museum. Sources for the money were:

- A) Our usual $1,000 donation, derived primarily from the club half of our 50/50 raffles held for members at each meeting.
- B) The estate of Sara Crawford, where a 2012 Ford Fusion was donated to the Vernon Nash Club and then sold by the club to a local dealer for $7,200.
- C) The estate of member Larry Sullivan. The estate gave the Vernon Nash Club most of Sully's car collection, which was then sold, netting the club $18,000, of which half was used for charity donations. The other half is retained in our treasury.

The Sara Crawford estate had requested that $1,000 be donated by the Vernon Nash Club to United Way. That check was presented by President Jeff Creamer a few days after our Annual Meeting, since a representative could not attend the dinner.

The largest check presented by the club was the half of the proceeds from the Larry Sullivan cars which Sully's family had requested be donated by the club to the Fairbanks Hospice. That check for $9,000 was presented at the Annual Meeting (see cover photo).

The remaining $7,200 was distributed to charities which were selected in the usual manner that the club chooses where to make our annual charity donation. With the generous amount this year, it was elected by the board to make this as three donations, each of an equal amount. Earlier this year, members were solicited for nominations for potential recipients, asking that the member write a nomination letter and that the member solicit the potential charity for a letter to the club explaining what the potential donation would benefit to the recipient. Five nominations with the required solicitation and nomination letter were received, and the Board elected to pass all five on to the membership for the selection of three for award. That selection was made at the October Membership Meeting, and the decision was difficult, with multiple ballots being required to determine the top three, each to receive an equal check in the amount of $2,400.

The Friends of Creamer's Field donation was to support their education programs at the Creamer's Field Migratory Waterfowl Refuge. Creamer's field is on College Road within the city limits of Fairbanks, and all year long thousands of people use the Refuge, which some described as being Fairbank's "Central Park". As Scott Grundy explained in his nominating letter of support, "the Friends operate the Visitor Center, work with the school district to lead school children on field trips to view and identify migratory waterfowl, lead nature walks, help maintain trails, host events like the annual 'Sandhill Crane Festival', organized and conduct a 'Camp Habitat' each summer for children, and so much more." At the meeting, Lissa Hughes, Executive Director of the Friends of Creamer's Field, accepted the check.

The Alaska Health Fair donation will provide much needed funding to acquire needed equipment for the screening work they do with Fairbanks populations who do not have much access to health care. They outlined a very specific needs list which totaled about $10,000 – so our contribution will put them a big step toward their equipment funding goal. The equipment is very specific for their vision and hearing screening services. They were nominated by club member Wilma Vinton. At the meeting, Ron and Sharon Phillips, accepted the check and made a few comments about where exactly the money will go toward specific items and programs.

Guys Read Gals Read was nominated by Katie & Phil Sanders. This program has over 80 volunteers who visit 4th grade classrooms and read. 4th grade is a key point when both boys and girls often stop reading for fun. By re-introducing them to serial novels targeted to their age, the volunteers re-ignite an interest. At the end of the book being read, most classroom listeners are eager to get the sequel book in the series. If again "hooked" on reading for pleasure, many will continue the habit for the rest of their lives. At the meeting, Greg and Clare Hill accepted the check and spoke about how the program started and how the program works in the schools to benefit those who might otherwise lose their interest in reading.

The $17,200 in donation checks was a huge amount from the Vernon L. Nash Antique Auto Club this year, but it was not the only focus on community giving and charity this year. Major efforts were made in support of the Food Bank and to the Pediatrics Ward at the Fairbanks Hospital.

About two years ago, member Theresa Chase urged the Vernon Nash Club to help support the Fairbanks Community Food Bank. Solicitations which started with the simple collection of canned goods at club meetings soon expanded club members volunteering one Saturday each month to help pack distribution boxes. On the third Saturday of every month, a rather sizable group leaves Cars'N'Coffee early to go over to the Food Bank and pack boxes. Additionally, starting last year at the holidays, members Theresa Chase and Carl Westphal challenged club members to donate turkeys. Last year the club donated 93 turkeys and this year 86.

EVENT PLANNING MEETING: Feb 18th

EVENT PLANNING MEETING

TUES, FEB 18th

The club will have an event planning meeting at the Fountainhead Museum at 7pm on February 18th. At the meeting, specific event ideas will be brainstormed, and then key events, old and new, will be planned for specific dates on our summer calendar. From there, the Board will solicit leadership (individual or committee) for each event. The final calendar will be published in March. Come join us for pizza and share your event ideas for this summer!

There is lots of "fun stuff" on the Internet to help us spend hours upon hours with that diversion for either fun or research on our old cars. Member David Hobson sent me a note that he has been a member of an email mailing each Saturday from The Old Motor, which he enjoys immensely. [Ed note: I have also been a recipient of this weekly email for a number of years.] Each Saturday morning, about Cars Coffee time, an email will pop up with links to featured items from the previous week on the Old Motor website. My personal favorite is the one that is usually the lead item on the list, "Four Fun Friday Kodachrome Car Photographs". As David suggests, log onto The Old Motor website (theoldmotor.com), and sign up for the weekly email subscription.

Publications Update

By Dave Anspach
AACA Vice President -
Publications

With the end of the car show season in the North, the season in the South is just beginning. Many of the southern regions just begin holding meetings in the fall and as such, their newsletters become more lively and interesting. For those that don't know, that is taken into account by the Publications Committee and they allow for scoring of those newsletters in order to take advantage of the "best" newsletters for those regions.

My pet project, "AACA TRAVELS WITH FRIENDS" has been officially embraced by the board of directors and assigned to me for completion. I am asking all newsletter editors to get the word out that this is something that is coming. The idea is to come up with a person to person method of communication for members that are traveling for whatever reason so that they can plan in advance with local knowledge and have that same local knowledge to use in case of an emergency. It is to be a voluntary "opt in" so anyone who doesn't want to be part of it for whatever reason does not have to sign up. We are still toying with how to get the initial "buy in" by members. That is, how do we get the initial sign up going?

The newsletter judging for 2019 will have ended for the year by the time you read this. There was a vast improvement in the quality of newsletters this year. Although I don't have any results, I am predicting an increase in the number of master editors. Everyone deserves a "pat on the back" for the hard work they have done. As I have said many times before, the newsletter is the glue that holds a region together. It is, in many cases, the only communication that many members get about their region. The hard work done by our editors to keep that communication flowing can not be praised enough!!

That being said, I want to emphasize to every member the importance of contributing to your region's newsletter. Any article you write makes

President's Headlights

- Jeff Creamer

Fellow Members,

Welcome to the new year! It was great to see so many of us at the Annual Meeting/Party at the Fountainhead Antique Auto Museum for the event. We installed the new officers for the year, said farewell to a departing board member, dined on some sumptuous fare, and had our holiday gift exchange. Look for more details in this newsletter!

It was very satisfying to be the benefactor of multiple charities this year, which is something I hope we can continue in the years to follow. As of now, we have one event dedicated to a specific group annually, and I would like to hear from you on how we can expand on this to benefit other programs in our community. Ideas that have come to my mind are just about anything to benefit the children in our community; fundraising for the preservation of the Riverboat Nenana; maybe a "Dog Days" for the animal shelter; or just about anything along those lines. In February, our event planning meeting would be a great time to share new ideas, and something else we could do is reach out to some of the other car, truck, and motorcycle clubs in the community and see about setting up some local events. The possibilities are endless! If you have ideas or suggestions and are unable to attend the planning meeting, please email me or any of the Board with your input and we will be sure to share it!

In the year ahead we will need folks to head up our regular activities. PPR's will be needed for the Wednesday night runarounds, poker runs, garage tours, etc. Our larger events like the Carlson Center car show, Golden Days parade and annual picnic are a joint effort with lots of volunteers needed! Information will be forthcoming on the ADBT and our joint meet with the Anchorage club, which will be needing support as well. Please let me or any board member know if you are willing to help with these activities.

I hope all of you are having a productive "off season" and are able to get to the usually long list of items needed to prepare or maintain your classic or antique cars. I have large plans of my own that need to be addressed in the few months of winter left. It's kind of funny, winters used to seem so long.....

Safe Travels,

EDITOR'S LEFT (on) BLINKER

- Rick Larrick

Well, my 8th year of newsletters I have edited is now "in the book". I think it is mandatory that an editor cannot serve more than a single decade, so if you are interested in being my understudy, I am taking applications. Tutelage and support (other than moral) expires with my editorship. Requirements are loose and flexible...

Once you have been an editor too long, National starts to give you work. I have scored a number of other Regional newsletters this past year for the Publications Committee (see the National column by Dave Anspach on page 6), and it has been interesting to see how varied in format and how rich in content a lot of the regional newsletters are. You can read the newsletters (and websites) of other AACA regions by going to their website area for Regions and Chapters on the AACA.com webpage. If you click on the region, you get linked to the website (ours links to a message from President Jeff), and though most of the websites, you can get to the newsletters, as can anyone else in the world... It is interesting that sometimes material from our newsletter will get used in other publications (Clifford Westphal is notorious through being quoted by his father and reprinted at least in the December issue of The Broken Axle, the newsletter of the Golden Crescent Region in Victoria, Texas).

The amount of community work and charitable donations by our club to the Fairbanks community is something we should all be proud of this year!

As many of you know, 2019 has been a difficult year for me. What do I see for the next year? I don't know. I don't have 2020 vision...

Vice President Mike Lecorchick brought the meeting to order at 7:00 p.m.

There were 27 members present.

NEW BOARD MEMBER JERRY MUSTARD

Jerry recently took early-retirement from Holaday Parks (the big sheet metal contractor here in Fairbanks) after working there for 29 years. He and wife, Carolyn, have been spending most of his time in the two years since retirement working on remodeling their home.

Jerry considers car nuts as “my people”, and it didn’t take Willy Vinton too much arm twisting to get Jerry to join our club after he won the 1950 Ford Tudor Sedan which was auctioned off by the club a few years ago.

Jerry’s favorite antique car is his 1970 Kaiser Jeep CJ5, having spent many hours working on it to do the wiring, transmission swap, transfer case rebuild, suspension, and almost everything else. 1970 was the last year of the early CJ5’s - with the model being almost exactly the same as every one since 1955. Jerry says “it’s a great trail rig - just like a four-wheeler, but you can drive it on the road!”

Jerry’s summer driver is also a classic - his 1983 Porsche 944, and he still has to restore that 1950 Ford.

Jerry and Carolyn are regulars at most club events, and Jerry can usually be found most Saturday mornings at Cars’NCoffee. As a new member of the Board, Jerry is “just looking to help out where I can!”.

100 YEARS AGO

From the Los Angeles Times, January 28, 1920:

BARNETTES ARE DIVORCED.

First White Woman in Tanana Wins Decree from Los Angeles Captain.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—Mrs. Isabelle Barnette, 247 Twenty-eighth avenue, first white woman to penetrate the Tanana district of Alaska in the gold rush days, was granted a final decree of divorce today by Superior Judge E. P. McGan, from Capt. E. T. Barnette, founder of Fairbanks, organizer of the First Alaskan Bank at Fairbanks, millionaire mine-owner and Alaskan pioneer.

With her final decree Mrs. Barnette was given the custody of her daughters, Virginia, aged 14, and Phyllis, 8 years of age. She sued on statutory grounds, but the other woman’s name was not revealed. Capt. Barnette resides in Los Angeles.

les. His wife said the act occurred in November, 1911, but she did not discover her husband’s infidelity until 1918.

The court retained jurisdiction over the husband in order that he might order Capt. Barnette to contribute to his family’s support should it become necessary. There has been a property settlement, however, and Mrs. Barnette is said to be worth more than $500,000 in her own right.

In the early 90’s Mrs. Barnette accompanied her husband to Alaska, with a load of merchandise on a scow. They proceeded up the Yukon to establish a trading post, then turned into the Tanana River. The scow was wrecked and the goods taken ashore. From this small be-
