Carlson Show Winners, 2013

The big winner this year was the 1971 Barracuda owned by Jim Brand. The car took People's Choice "Best Classic" and then took the "Best of Show" voting by a wide margin. Jim just finished the car days before the show, and is looking forward to driving it this summer! Trucks was the featured class, and the People's Choice "Best Truck" was the beautiful 1936 GMC owned by Ron Dane. Someone pointed out that it won "Best Truck" despite spending part of the show time with a banana peel on the grille guard, rumored to have been placed there by one of last years winners (when Ron's truck was not in the show). Scott and Donna Culbertson took a twofer, with the 1930 Willys Knight again being judged by those attending the show as the "Best Antique, and then Donna's newly acquired 1933 American Austin took the Best Vintage (beating Dave Rockney's Rockne by a mere 3 votes, I'm told). The People's Choice "Best Hotrod / Modified" was the 1951 Studebaker owned by our youngest car owning member, Hunter Binder.

It is easier to get older than it is to get wiser.

Plaques will be presented at the June 13th Membership Meeting.

Car entries were down a bit this year, but from listening to many members, the blame was on the weather. Since it was less than a week since the last snow, many folks hadn't had their cars out yet, and some reported that they couldn't yet get to their cars due to either snow or bad road conditions. Members showing cars this year were: Larry Sullivan, Willy Vinton, Robbie Casey, Chris Niffenegger, John McDonald, Ron Dane, Peter Lundquist, Scott Grundy, Sam Simmons, Dale Oines, Jeff Barney, Bub Larson, Rochelle Larson, John McCarthy, Rick & Jill Larrick, Scott & Donna Culbertson, Dave Rockney, Ron & Nancy Allen, Dennis Schmit, Ed McLaughlin, Katie Karpic, Marvin Wright, James Brand, Julio Merced, Brett Helms, Kelly & Nancy Rivers, Tim Palmer, Paul Tekin, Ralph Moore, Gary Leaming, Ron Frey, Hunter Binder, and Terry Whitledge. There were 46 cars indoors, and members also brought 5 tractors.

Vendors supporting the club with displays were The Fountainhead Museum, Air Liquide, The Daily News Miner, Gene's Chrysler, and of course Seekins Ford. It was interesting to compare the 2014 Mustang as it sat across the aisle from the 1965 Mustang on which the Seekins Body Shop so expertly did the body work and paint job.

DENALI ROAD LOTTERY

Sign-ups for the lottery are open from May 1st through June 30th. As many know, the Anchorage Auto Musers try to go in with their old cars as a group each year (but it is a fun drive any way you do it!). The Auto Musers are planning to go in as a group on Saturday, September 14th—so when you send in your entry, you want to list Saturday the 14th as your first choice. The group always has a fun dinner on Friday night, and then starts the trip together with a group picture on Saturday morning. From then on, it is up to each to enjoy the park in their own way. To the right is a picture as we followed Judy and Fred Keller from Wasilla in their "Little Red Wagon" two years ago. The online address for sign up is www.recreation.gov and the phone number is 1-877-444-6777.

Kellers, Campbells & Larricks 2011

You can only sign up on-line or by telephone. Most of the car people are signing up choices in order as 9/14, 9/15, 9/16 and then 9/13. If you try, but don't win the lottery, there is a chance that an inholder permit can be arranged for you if you want to join the fun and go in with the group. When you win (or need help with a permit) contact Tam Isham with the Anchorage Club.

CRUISIN' THE DQ

by John McCarthy

Bob Casey, Sue and Al Whitney, Darrell Vance and John McCarthy

A part of America's love affair with old cars involves cruising to local fast food restaurants and drive-ins. Many of these establishments have a day of the week set aside as a cruise-in night to attract old cars and specialty vehicles.

The Dairy Queen enjoys its Thursday night cruise-ins all summer long and is host to 30- 40 cars from the Flathead Lake valley each week.

Many of these vehicles are owned by members of the Glacier Street Rod Association, a local car club comprised of hot rods, modified cars and stock vehicles 40 years old and older. The Kalispell Dairy Queen also holds a car display yearly during the Glacier Street Rod Association's annual "Glacier Rally in the Rockies" which attracts cars from several U.S. states and Canadian provinces.

If you are visiting a different state, consider attending a local car event. You'll be able to check out some neat cars , meet interesting people and you might find that perfect car for sale that you just can't live without.

This allows vehicle owners to cruise and socialize with other owners and show off their rides to envious spectators.

Last

September, during our trip to Montana, Nee and I had a chance to attend the Thursday night cruise-in at the local Kalispell Dairy Queen.

We cruised to the DQ with our friend Darrell Vance in his 1963 Ford Fairlane and met up with past VLNAACF members Al and Sue Whitney and visited with Bob

Casey, brother of VLNAACF club member Robbie

Casey. The mild fall day allowed us to socialize and check out some different vehicle modifications, restorations, and paint jobs while enjoying the comfortable Montana weather.

President's Headlights - Scott Culbertson

Hello Everyone. Well, we have FINALLY started our driving session. Let's hope we have an extended fall and we can catch up on our lost time. Many congratulations to the winners of this year's Carlson Car Show. I want to give special thanks to John, Penny & Hunter Binder for all the work they did in putting together the Carlson Car Show. Without members like them we would all just gather once a month at the Bakery and stare at each other.

We have a lot going on now that we have gotten things started so make sure and check the new calendar layout. I got a special request from Bassett Army Hospital to remind everyone of the Men's health event and their hope that our membership will bring their cars over to attract attention. The event is on Thursday June 13th from 4:00 to 7:00pm.

If you are one of our members who is holding onto raffle tickets, you need to sell them NOW or turn them in NOW. June 13th is the deadline to have the stubs or unsold tickets turned back into the club. After June 13th we are going to charge you for the tickets still out in your name. Please see the board minutes on page 6 for why it is that we are taking this action.

See Ya at the Meeting

We tried to re-format the Events Pages (pages 4 & 5) to make them easier to read and to also include events from the Anchorage club, National AACA, and other locally hosted events that might be of interest to members. Rochelle is our Events & Program Chairperson, and so events that you would like listed both in the newsletter and on the website calendar need to be coordinated through Rochelle Larson. Rochelle is also who to call if you can help out with hosting or organizing any of the events, or if you just need more information on an event. Feedback on the new format would be appreciated

BORED NOTES FROM BOARD AND MEMBERSHIP MEETINGS IN MAY

- Minutes and financial reports were reviewed and approved. Income year to date is $12,500, mostly from the sale of raffle tickets. Expenses are less than $1000. Balances total $30,607.
- John Binder reported on the Carlson Center Show. All seems to be falling into place, and solicitation of Vendor support is going on.
- Raffle Car tickets are sold out, except for those members who still have tickets checked out. The Board moved that all tickets must be returned by the June 13th membership meeting—either the stubs and payment turned in, or any unsold tickets turned in. Members will be charged for any tickets not turned in by June 13th. If possible we would like to chase in as many tickets as possible before the Carlson Show ; If you have any unsold tickets, it would be appreciated if you turn them in at the Show so that the Club can sell them.
- The club has benefited from many generous donations in the past two years, and how to recognize donors was a large part of the Board discussion. It was decided to present a picture plaque to large donors and for the Secretary to prepare a letter for any donor. These letters and picture plaques would be reviewed at the monthly Board meeting and letters signed for mailing.
- Events for June and July were reviewed

AACA Museum to Celebrate Tenth Anniversary

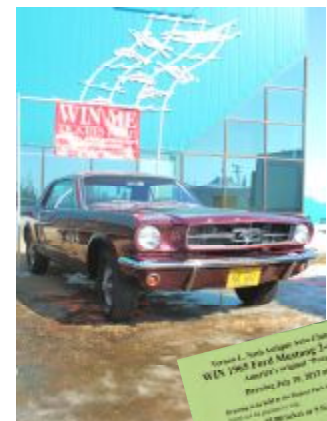

By Don Barlup
VP AACA Museum

In just ten years, our AACA Museum in Hershey has become a first class venue for all forms of automotive historical displays and just plain fabulous vehicles. This notoriety throughout the hobby has only been possible through the generosity of our AACA family and its Regions and Chapters. A dedicated staff and passionate volunteers make each visit there an unforgettable experience.

The year 2013 will be the year of celebration of the first ten years. On June 22nd (the actual opening date ten years ago) the AACA Museum staff and its volunteer Special Events Council (the Museums oldest volunteer group predating the Museum construction) will host its 18th Annual Car Show on the Museum grounds. Plan to attend!

Information on making a donation is available by contacting the Museum at (717) 566-7100. The AACA Museum is a 501c3 charitable entity and all donation are tax deductible, limited by the extent of the law.

Ten years of providing a service to our hobby is a momentous occasion. Let's keep that momentum going by becoming involved with the museum, visiting the museum in Hershey, or making a donation.

If you still have raffle ticket stubs or unsold raffle tickets, please return them to Rochelle at Larson's Locksmith. All ticket stubs must be returned and/or paid for by the June 13th Member Meet

HISTORY ON WHEELS THE JEFFREY QUAD

By JEFF RICHARDSON
jrichardson@newsminer.com

Remnants of the past are everywhere in the Yukon River village of Eagle, but nowhere is that fact more striking than in the anonymous water wagon shed at Historic Fort Egbert.

When Eagle Historical Society board member John Borg rolls open the door to the old wooden building, he reveals an unexpected auto museum. The shed at the former Army post contains a 1925 Model T truck, a vintage road grader and a 1932 Model B dump truck. But perhaps most notably, it also houses a 1914 Jeffery Quad.

Exactly how it spent its life in Eagle remains something of a mystery, but the old vehicle has become the pride of the collection.

"We've got some good theories, but we don't know why or who," Borg said.

Anyone who hasn't heard of the Jeffery Quad can be forgiven — the boxy trucks were first produced a century ago in Kenosha, Wis., at the Thomas B. Jeffery factory. The work-horse Quads were built for the U.S. military to replace mule teams and were used during World War I as troop transports and ambulances. Their moment of glory may have come when they were part of a slow-moving caravan that pursued the revolutionary general Pancho Villa into Mexico.

But some of them also headed north to the young and relatively unpopulated territory of Alaska.

Borg said the Eagle Historical Society has tracked down four that were brought up by the Northern Commercial Co. in 1915. At least one arrived in Eagle on the barge from Circle before heading up the Yukon soon afterward to Dawson City.

The Quad emerged in a transportation museum in Whitehorse in the 1990s and was eventually purchased by the Eagle Historical Society. It was fixed up in Fairbanks before returning to Eagle in about 2000.

The Jeffery has a four-cylinder Rambler gasoline engine, four-speed manual transmission, four-wheel drive and four-wheel steering. It even still has the original owner's manual, Borg said.

The vehicle is old enough that its pedals include basic instructions for drivers unfamiliar with cars. The clutch pedal is imprinted with a "C" and the brake has a "B" on it. It tops out at about 15 miles per hour.

At least once a year the Quad works its way through the streets of Eagle during the Fourth of July parade, which is why it's decorated with tiny American flags. With its hand-crank starter, Borg can still bring it to life with a little effort.

"I need an apprentice, and I need to write down the instructions for starting it," he said with a smile.

A running century-old vehicle is a rarity, and Eagle's Jeffery Quad is no different. Borg knows of only one other Quad in the U.S. that runs, a model in Albany, Minn., that chugs down the street with old farming equipment during local parades.

Only 3,096 Quads were produced in 1914, according to the Antique Automobile Club of America, but the club doesn't keep records of the number that are still functioning. Based on the response the Quad still gets today, the novelty isn't lost on visitors to Eagle. "I have taken hundreds of people here through the years, and they are always just blown away," Borg said.

Contact staff writer Jeff Richardson at 459-7518.

SIGN UP EARLY FOR ALL THE FUN AT GOLDEN DAYS!

Wilma Vinton is helping get us organized for the big parade on Golden Days this year. All goes a whole lot smoother when we can confirm a number of participants early, and can get all the proper paperwork done ahead of time, including making sure we have a laminated placard for your car. So, if like most of us, you know you are going to participate again this year, please fill out the form today, and mail it (or email it) to Wilma at wlvinton@gci.net.

There were about 60 members at our May meeting at the Fountainhead Museum

Once again this year, the Fountainhead Museum graciously opened the museum for our May monthly membership meeting. It is a great setting for a car club meeting, and a wonderful backdrop to discussion of all of our upcoming activities. Many members stayed on an extra hour to tour the museum exhibits.

The club had a guest speaker from the J.P. Jones Center to discuss their invitation to our club to take part in their first Juneteenth Parade on June 15th. While many of our members will be near Denali Park for the Joint Meet, there was strong interest from those folks who will be here in Fairbanks to come out and support the organization and the planned parade down 23rd.

Club guest, Sandra Rice discusses Juneteenth

Like all recent years, if you are going to thrill the kids and grandkids by letting them ride, then you need to complete a Parental Consent Form—e-mail or call Wilma and she will get you one, or you can download it at:

<http://fairbankschamber.org/goldendays/>

I would guess Wilma will also be looking for folks who have space for WEIO Queens and other dignitaries who always like to ride at the front of the parade with us.

And with even greater anticipation: get ready for our big picnic after the parade over at Pioneer Park. Since it looks like all the raffle tickets will be sold, the board has promised a big feed to rival last years' pig roast! We will give away the Mustang at 2 pm.!
